This is the last in a series of articles on the activities of the Taxi Rank and File Coalition working for community control of the taxi industry in New York City. The Coalition is now in the process of reviewing its work and plans for the future.

The Coalition is a coalition of drivers and union organizers working for a better contract and a better union for the rank and file. The Coalition was formed in early 1977 in response to the crisis in the taxi industry.

The Coalition's goals are to improve working conditions for drivers, to increase the union's bargaining power, and to increase the involvement of rank and file members in union decision-making.

The Coalition has been successful in negotiating contracts that have improved drivers' working conditions. However, the Coalition faces many challenges, including the need to continue to improve the union's bargaining power and to increase the involvement of rank and file members in union decision-making.

The Coalition's work is important because it represents a growing trend towards community control of the taxi industry. As the Coalition continues to work towards its goals, it will be an important force in shaping the future of the taxi industry in New York City.

The 20-inch snow of 1978 is over. And now the Big Snow Job—the game of city contracting negotiations—is on center stage. Union contracts representing 250,000 municipal workers expire March 31.

As city workers, we know more than anyone else what the score is. We know how many firehouses have been closed, how fire protection, garbage collection, and day care have been reduced. We also know that we have taken a 20% cut in real pay since 1975. Three years of no raises and inflation and real increases.

Please call Mayor Koch and tell him that what he is doing is not acceptable. The people of New York are not fools. They know what the score is. They know that what you are doing is not acceptable. They know that what you are doing is not acceptable.
