Thanks from the General Council

The General Council desires to tender its sincere thanks to the large number of members of the Labour Movement and sympathizers who readily and freely placed their services at the disposal of the Trade Union Movement during the recent stoppage.

The Council cannot thank them all individually, as there are so many, and accordingly they are asked to accept collective thanks.

The response for assistance was very steady, both financial, transport, publicity, the production and distribution of the "BRITISH WORKER," and the dispatch carriage, clerical work at the various offices and strike activities.

This voluntary service is highly appreciated, and the General Council desires to place on record its grateful thanks to all who have assisted in the splendid economical resumption of working class unity and solidarity on behalf of the locked-out Miners' workers.

ARTHUR PUGH
(Chairman)
W. M. CITRINE
(Acting Secretary)
May 15, 1926.

EMERGENCY POWERS

Proclamation Still Remains in Force

It was pointed out yesterday in Government quarters that the Emergency Proclamation is still in force, and regulations can still be operated so far as applicable to the present situation.

The unions restricting the consumption of coal, in particular, are to be enforced pending a miners' settlement.

The Government will make a comprehensive survey of the working of the emergency transport and supply organisation, with a view to keeping the present situation under control, with any improvements as experience has suggested. The regulations of "volunteer workers" will be preserved, as well as those of special constables.

A VOLUNTEER'S REWARD

When Alfred Bryan Blathwayt, a member of the postal strike, was charged at Manchester with drinking and having charge of a motorcar, which crashed into a wall, he appealed to the Bench for him that for having acted as a volunteer during the strike he should have been sent to jail. He was fined 4s.

MINERS AND PREMIER'S PROPOSALS

Delegate Conference Adjourns to Thursday Next

EXPLANATIONS WANTED

The Prime Minister's proposals, put forward as a basis for a settlement of the miners' dispute, were placed before the delegate conference of the Miners' Federation in London on Saturday.

After a brief session the conference was adjourned until Thursday next.

Acting upon his Executive's instructions, Mr. A. J. Cook saw, at the week-end, officials of the Miners' Department, with a view to securing an explanation of the Government proposals. The Miners' Executive will meet in London to-morrow, and will probably have an interview with the Prime Minister at that evening.

The Central Committee of the Mining Association (the owners' organisation) met in London on Saturday and gave a preliminary consideration to the proposals.

LOCK-OUT CONTINUES

The delegate conference of the Miners' Federation, which had adjourned on Friday, met again in London on Saturday. The session was of brief duration.

The chairman (Mr. Herbert Smith) explained to the delegates that the Executive Committee had come to the conclusion that there was no means at their disposal that required explanation.

Appreciation

Hence, the Committee recommended the adjournment until Thursday next, so that in the meantime representatives of the Government would be interviewed and explanations obtained.

The conference accordingly adjourned. Before dispersing, the delegates unanimously joined the following resolution:

"That this conference expresses its profound appreciation of the self-sacrificing loyalty displayed by our fellow trade unionists in other industries, and pledges itself to render every possible assistance to any organisation which at the termination of the stoppage is confronted with difficulties arising from the strike."

Meanwhile, the lockdown of a million miners continues.

The Prime Minister's proposals, which were printed in full in Saturday's issue of the British Worker, provide that the Government shall introduce legislation to carry out some of the recommendations of the Coal Commission.

It is proposed to move money for the attendance of miners' wives from £20,000 to £60,000, and to make greater efforts to meet the demand for coal.

The miners are to accept temporary reduction in minimum wages, the amount and period to be negotiated.

During the period the miners are to leave wages up to the full amount of the rate of the period of the in

To General Printing Trades of London

The "British Worker" is officially informed by Mr. Wilson Howes, secretary of the Printing Machines Managers' Trades' Society, acting on the instructions of the Executive Council, that all members of that Society are to resume work on Saturday, and the number of vehicles on the roads increased considerably.

In many towns regulations concerning the forms on which workmen should sign up their dates were suspended.

In Hull, for instance, there was a clear street over the position of the匠心. The employers sought to impose new terms, but workers numbering some 30,000 in other industries stood their commands and after negotiations which lasted 20 hours, concluding at 3.30 a.m. yesterday, agreement was reached.

Again work generally will be resumed today.

The negotiations were also necessary at Kirklees before agreement could be reached concerning the reinstatement of the Corporation training employees, who with their comrades of all other trades returned.

Nearly all railmen will be back to work early today, although a few local troubles will be normal until later in the work.

WEATHER

Wind mainly between W. and NW. and a few local showers; no big change in temperature.
THE BRITISH WORKER

"Feed The Women and Children"

MONEY WANTED FOR MINERS

Call of 5,000,000 Souls for Right to Live

MR. COOK'S APPEAL

Money is needed to help the locked-out miners and their families, and the Miners' Federation appeals for contributions to be sent to the Treasurer, Miners' Federation, 55, Russell-square, London, W.C.1.

Mr. J. J. Cook, secretary of the Federation, in a statement to the British Miners' Federation, said: "One million miners are still earning less. They and their dependents number about 5,000,000 souls. They are appealing for the right to live.

"On their behalf I thank the men at home and abroad for the financial help already given. We have just had an additional appeal for the sacrifice of 1,000 pounds which will be gladly received, from any quarter, in need of help to the miners and their families.

"Will the sympathy expressed recently of the Archbishop of Canterbury on behalf of the men, and religious denominations show itself in action?"

"We shall receive help from our enemies abroad.

POOR WORKERS' HELP

"Alarmed the Russian Miners' Union, which has decided to place at the disposal of the British Miners' Federation 2,000,000 rubles (200,000 pounds) collected by the workers as their last installment. For that I give my best thanks."

"We have, too, received money from British workers. Hundreds of small donations have come to us from your workers. Here is an instance that has come to my notice:"

"Two girls employed in an office brought in 20p, representing their first week's collection. One had to walk five miles, the other 15 miles, to reach the office, but nevertheless they devoted time and energy to assisting their fellow-workers."

"I appeal for the widespread sympathy that has been expressed to us, and put into terms of financial help. I should be glad if we could raise a million pounds."

"We need the money to save the miners and peace in our industry."}

BEDDER THAN BATONS

Blind Man Thanks Police for Human Act

Ashby-de-la-Zouch police recently ahd an event which will be remembered for a long time to come. The department was called to the aid of a blind man who was precisively disoriented. The police were able to safely guide him home, which was a notable achievement.

THE BEACH MYSTERY

A body has been found at the Beach, which is suspected of being that of George Butler, of Beach Street, Blackpool.

THE MINERS AND PREMIER'S PROPOSALS

Decisive Week in History of the Coal Industry

Continued from Page One

"I intend, as well as pleading for justice, to work as far as I can to make the leaders of this great organization understand that their government will give security to the men employed in the industry."}

Better Terms

Mr. Lansbury on What Strike Won for the Miners

Nightingale, and said Mr. George Lansbury, M.P., at the Alexandra Hall on Wednesday, would be unable to address the Miners Federation meeting under discussion on what had occurred last week. He had been advised by his doctors that he should not speak in public until he had been in hospital for three weeks.

"Mr. Lansbury was in hospital last week. He had been advised by his doctors that he should not speak in public until he had been in hospital for three weeks."

"Nightingale, and said Mr. George Lansbury, M.P., at the Alexandra Hall on Wednesday, would be unable to address the Miners Federation meeting under discussion on what had occurred last week. He had been advised by his doctors that he should not speak in public until he had been in hospital for three weeks.

"Better Terms"}

JOKE TOO SUCCESSFUL

Panic Caused in a Dance Hall

A joke that went too far, according to Mr. Hugh Gery, appeared before the Liverpool magistrate on Saturday. The joke, according to Mr. Gery, was intended to cause general hilarity among the crowd.

"The joke was a success, but the reaction was not what we expected. Unluckily, the exploding cap injured Mr. Gery's ear and he fell to the ground with a loud cry."

The police duly answered and Gery was arrested.

"McDonald has gone to sea, and the charge was withdrawn after explanations had been given.

GAMEKEEPER SHOT

Harry Hardy, of Keeper's Lodge, Llanbedr, near Blaenau, the Warden of Portland's head gamekeeper, was shot last night when he was attending to two men who had discovered he was hunting on the estate. The bullet grazed a serious wound in the right leg and later left him bedridden.

SIGNALMAN'S WORRY

Hanged Himself Because of Transfer to Strange Box

That he was worried about having to change his job was hinted at in a letter written by Mr. John Whitehead, a signalman on the South Wales Railway, who hanged himself on Thursday at his home in Cardiff."

"The signalman told his father that he was worried about having to change his job, which would be a serious threat to his family."

POSTPONED

The world's most famous conference, which was arranged for next month, has been postponed. The meeting was to be held in France, but the decision has been made to postpone it.

TO SHIP IN 13 MINUTES

Captain F. Dinmore, an Imperial Airways pilot, gave a specially chartered Vickers Vimy to an American airman to fly to Boston yesterday so that he could escape from the current weather conditions.

"The Vimy has the speed of 150 miles an hour, and is capable of flying at a height of 10,000 feet."

NIGHTMATIC SCHEMES

Two "safety men" were trapped by a fire at Llandudno Pit of the Blackhill Colliery at Glasgow early on Saturday. The New Lanark mine was the latest in a series of fires that have been occurring in the last few days.

"Two "safety men" were trapped by a fire at Llandudno Pit of the Blackhill Colliery at Glasgow early on Saturday. The New Lanark mine was the latest in a series of fires that have been occurring in the last few days."

FIRST NEWS OF DISASTER

The first hint of the disaster was given by the men who were working in the shaft. They were able to give a clear account of what had happened.

"The disaster was a terrible one, and it is feared that many lives may have been lost."

MOBILE SCHOOL STAFFS

Mr. Robert Blair on Need of Rural Areas

A more mobile teaching staff is needed to enable the teachers to serve rural schools was advocated by Mr. Robert Blair, formerly education officer to the L.A.C.C., in a speech at Surrey Education Conference at Wembury Park on Saturday.

"The recent adoption of education code, which is intended to provide a wider range of courses for secondary schools, has been welcomed."

PARIS BARBARS' STRIKE

The Parisians' assistants of Paris decided to strike on the number of 5,000 men to work on the streets on Thursday. Their demand for higher wages is not to be conceded before that date. They have come to the conclusion that the current weather conditions have necessitated the strike in order to protect their interests. The strike was announced last night with the support of the Paris labor unions.
The Strike Bulletin Epic

How "British Worker" Saw It Through

Its Great Triumph in the Face of Tremendous Odds

When the seventh and, it is expected, the last issue of the Barrage Worker, the official Strike Bulletin of the General Council, appeared today, a memorable chapter in the history of newspapers and of the Trade Union Movement closes.

The story of its birth and of its fight for life against tremendous odds, its obstinate being essential to the general strike organisation, is filled with dramatic incidents. The paper was born in a police raid and threatened by the Government with arrest, but it lived through it all and accomplished its purpose, which was to give the workers the facts of the situation day by day.

Go Ahead!

With the stoppage of press unions and the virtual closing down of the newspaper Press, the production of the Daily Herald, the staff of which has not been reduced, continued its uninterrupted publication under its only authority the strikers themselves.

Contact was also maintained between the Press and Propaganda Committee of the Trades Union Congress and the Daily Herald, and in common with other organs of the strike, it was decided to publish the morning of Saturday, May 6. The General Council, after a day of consultation, gave the go-ahead to "go ahead" with an official Labour Strike Bulletin.

The printing and other secret operations were carried on with unusual secrecy. An editorial staff was quickly recruited, and reports to factories were arranged with the printing press so that they would be started the moment the strike began. The production of copies of the newspaper was completed in the evening of the day the strike began, and the printing was done by the strike men. The paper was handed out to the workers in the factories, and the news was widely printed.

Send Us More!

The circulation of the Barrage Worker was growing by leaps and bounds, and although the circulation was halved, there were demands for copies from all over the country. Send us more. How could that be done in the midst of the strike? Fortunately the Barrage Worker was able to print a limited edition of 500 copies, and the circulation was cut in half. But the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in half, and the circulation was not cut in hal...
Tories Say Baldwin Must Go

FAREWELL!

The British Worker

It is but eleven days since the Barrister Writer was born, since we were explaining why it had come into being and telling our readers "What we stand for.
Only eleven days! Yet those days have been so full of events each of them has seemed more like a week. The day of our appearance seems far, far away.

And now we must say Goodbye. We have made countless friends. We hope to keep them.
To-morrow the Daily Herald reads it with a good grace.
looked forward day by day to the Barrister Worker, who have felt grateful to it and realised its value to the Workers. Causes all of them will transact for them, and the gain will be substantial to that cause which fights for a large place in our

The British Worker not only recorded the making of history, but has helped to make it. It is already a part of history itself.
We look back upon its short life with satisfaction; we can feel that we have not fought unfairly or weakened the standards of decent journalism, as did the British Gazette. We have fought a good duel: we have finished our

The correct text is not available for this page.
Back to the Line Again

NEWSPAPERS TO RESUME

Evenings To-day and Mornings To-morrow

AGREED TERMS

Normal evening newspapers will commence with the week-end edition tonight, and normal morning papers will be published tomorrow. After conferences lasting two days at an official statement giving provisional arrangements for resumption of general printing trade in London and the provinces and the provincial newspaper office was issued on Saturday night by Mr. A. H. Anderson, secretary of the Federation of Master Printers, Mr. A. A. Holmes (secretary, Printing on Linoleum, Wood and Paper Trades Federation), and Mr. E. W. Davies (general secretary, Newspaper Society). The arrangements—which are subject to the decision of two unions not represented at the conference owing to transport difficulties—provide for re-engagement of employees, and will mean the resumption of work on a day-to-day basis on existing contracts and will cost nothing to the printers.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD ON THURSDAY

NO VICTIMIZATION

The terms on which London papers will resume were drawn up by the Newspaper Proprietors' Association on the one hand and the National Union of Journalists, the London Society of Composers, Curators of the Press, News Agents, Machine Managers, Process Workers, News Agents, Paper Workers, Engineers and Electricians on the other.

It is agreed that there shall be no victimization, no interference with the employment of those who worked or returned to work during the strike, nor with the employment of those who were unemployed by the action of the employers.

The London Syndicate will ensure that no interference will become involved with the printing plants or places of work in which the printing plants are engaged in production and no printing plants will be closed.

No chapel meetings are to be held at any time.

CRISS CROSS IN CRISIS

Press Combine Attempts to Keep

Our Union Labour

The Press Syndicate, Gloucester, the master controlling all daily and Sunday papers and the chief newspaper system in future will employ only non-striking workers and will not supply paper for writing in any of its offices.

Only a small number of the companies in the Press Syndicate have been represented on this agreement, and the Press Syndicate is not bound by the provisions of any of them.

Members of editorial staffs of all the other newspapers have been invited to join the Press Syndicate, and N.A.P.S. is urgent to the fact that all workers are represented by the Press Syndicate.

SUBSIDISED FLYING

£6 500 Grant for Seaplane Club

The Air Council has decided to give a grant of £6 500 to the Seaplane Club for its seaplane training scheme. The scheme is to be carried out at the R.A.F. station at Hendon, near London. The grant will be used to purchase two seaplanes, one of which is to be a training plane and the other a demonstration plane. The club will use the seaplanes for training purposes and for demonstration purposes.

A GREAT VICTORY

Train Robbery at Biggin

The train robbery at Biggin, near Chatham, on Monday night, in which a trainload of gold was stolen, has been a great victory for the Union Movement.

FRANCE SHIVERS

The weather in Paris and in Central Europe was very bad on Monday.
Mr. Bevin's Instruction to Other Ports: Position in the Provinces

Work at the London docks will be resumed today, terms having been reached on Friday night by the Ministry, the Transport and General Workers' Union and the Seafarers' Union with the Port Labour Employers. The terms, signed by both sides, are as follows —

1. The Port employers in London will recognize labour on the terms of the National Agreement which the unions admit they have broken.

2. The men to present themselves for work at their respective places of employment at 7.45 a.m. on Monday, May 17, 1932.

3. Work will be taken on as many men as are available for it.

4. Permanent and casual employees, supervisory or otherwise, will be re-engaged in their former positions on resumption of work.

5. The unions undertake a) not in future to instruct their members to strike for purely local, or purely local, for any reason without exhausting the existing machinery for the settlement of the national agreements; b) not to support or encourage any strike by members who take individual action contrary to the preceding clause (a); c) to instruct their members in every future dispute to refrain from any attempt to influence any in certain supervisory grades (to be specified hereafter) to take strike action.

6. After a general resolution of work by Union representatives, no further declarations of work by the Unions are to be taken as sufficient to call off work.

7. London masters in the Russell case are required to be in accordance with the conditions specified hereafter, and work is resumed.

ENGINEERS BACK TO-DAY

Arrangements for Return to Work in most towns

A major development in the Scottish engineering and shipyard establishments is the resumption of work. Some engineers have, however, been dismissed, and there is a general feeling of anxiety among the workers. In Edinburgh, for example, over 1,000 shipbuilders at Duddingston will be engaged on similar work under the Union terms on Southport for all men who have not already been dismissed.

Among the engineering works in Birmingham about 60 per cent of the strikers have so far been re-engaged.

BRADFORD DYERS RESUME

Difficulties hinge on the amount of operable dyers in Bradford, and no steps are being taken to restart employment.

Scott's Bakers Dispute

The West Lothian County Bakers' dispute has been settled by the men's return to work, the sugar manufacturers being instructed to pay the men a rise of 1s. a week.
SNOWSTORMS IN BRITAIN

Heavy Falls in North and South

THUNDER, TOO

"A snow year is a rich year," says the proverb; and if that be true, 1925 will be a rich year, for, although it is mid-May, snow fall during the weekend and over a very wide area of the country. In the Cotswolds, which were swept by an exceptionally heavy snowstorm, snow was as deep as six inches in places.

North Parks and North Havens also had a heavy fall, and a depth of three inches was the general rule. In the Brecon area there was a thunderstorm as well, and at Brecon a large fire was blown out by lightning.

FRENCH MINERS' CLAIMS

Wages Demands to be Decided Within Eight Days

The National Union of French Miners' Federation has passed a resolution demanding an immediate discussion of the question of an increase in wages, and that this discussion shall begin to be heard by May 25.

The union also passed a resolution declaring unanimous support of the decisions reached by the International Miners Federation concerning the boycott of coal, etc., the handling of which might tend to impede the realization of the legitimate claims of the British miners.

DIAMOND ROMANCE

£400 Gem Stolen in London

Found in New York

Mr. A. W. G. Blodgett, of Park street, Jamaica, N.Y., who was robbed of a diamond valued at £400, has been on the lookout for the gem since some time ago, but has been unsuccessful. The gem was last seen in the possession of a cabman, who was driving a cab.

The cabman, who was driving a cab, informed the police that he had found the gem in the possession of a cabman, who was driving a cab.

LAB'S BRAVE ACT

Dive Into Canal Fully Dressed and Rescue Child of Six

Without stopping to take off even his shoes, a man named Ernest Davers, of Rainoort, Rainoort, Marylebone, on Sunday, paddled into the water and saved a child of six from drowning.

The child, a girl named Kathleen, was playing on the bank and had fallen into the water, but was saved by Davers, who was praised for his bravery.

TEA v. BEER

Nearly 60 per cent. of the country's population drink at least one cup of tea from the sale of alcoholic beverages, according to a report by the British Public Health Commission, at Guildford. The commission has recommended that a simple method be used to determine the amount of tea consumed in various houses in the U.K.

BILKING "SPECIAL"

Magistrate on "Dirty, Mean Thing"

Arrested when on a night out at Little Coteham, London, is a mounted special, Major Stewart Duff, aged 25, described as an "inferior" of both Misses and Mrs. V. W., who was arrested at Marble Arch store on Saturday and released on Monday.

The manager of the police, Major Stewart Duff, and his brother, who is a special, were arrested on Saturday and released on Monday.

GIFT FROM OWNERS

Over 5,000 Colliery Workers Receive 15s. Each

Workers at the Ashton Colliery, Lancashire, are to receive 15s. each from the owners, who have decided to give a reward for the recovery of a coal鼓舞. On Saturday the miners were given a banquet, each with a gold watch.

CHEAPER MILK

The Controller of the Milk Pool, Hyde Park, stated that "The Board of Trade's control of milk will cease on Monday, and the retail price will be reduced further, as and from Friday morning, the normal summer period price.

U.S. CONSUL CHANGE

Mr. A. B. Cooks, who has held the post for a year and a half, has been succeeded by Mr. J. C. Watney, who comes from breeding.

MOTORING DEATHS

Five People Killed and Three Injured

Five people were killed in motor accidents during the weekend-end. Three of them sustained serious injuries. Two women were killed in a car accident, and a third woman was killed in a bicycle accident. Another woman was killed in a bicycle accident, and a third woman was killed in a bicycle accident.

SPORTING BREVIETIES

COUNTY, NEWCASTLE UPON TYNE

The York and Bath two meeting. The York and Bath two meeting.

SURREY BIG SCORE

South of England Team to Meet the Australians

The Test Match Selection Committee has announced that the South of England team will meet the Australians at the Oval on Saturday, July 18, in a one-day match. The South of England team will consist of the following players:

1. J. A. Langford (Yorkshire)
2. W. H. Read (Kent)
3. G. W. Gooch (Middlesex)
4. J. O. Meier (Cambridgeshire University)
5. J. R. H. Gough (Sussex)
6. R. G. A. Shipton (Surrey)

TEST TRIAL

South of England Team to Meet the Australians

The Test Match Selection Committee has announced that the South of England team will meet the Australians at the Oval on Saturday, July 18, in a one-day match. The South of England team will consist of the following players:

1. J. A. Langford (Yorkshire)
2. W. H. Read (Kent)
3. G. W. Gooch (Middlesex)
4. J. O. Meier (Cambridgeshire University)
5. J. R. H. Gough (Sussex)
6. R. G. A. Shipton (Surrey)

FIRST-CLASS CRICKET

Stevens' Bright Batting Against Australians

SURREY BIG SCORE

The Middlesex cricketers have set a record of 938 for the win against the Australians at Lord's, and it is expected that the Middlesex cricketers will set another record against the Australians at Lord's.
To-morrow
THE
DAILY HERALD
AGAIN
Drop Capitalist Organs,
Read the Paper which stands for all of the People all the time

After a stoppage of eleven publishing days the DAILY HERALD will definitely appear to-morrow (Tuesday).

The Staff of the DAILY HERALD and of Victoria House are all Trade Unionists. We had no desire to bring out an improvised DAILY HERALD, nor had we any wish to create difficulties with the Unions in the Newspaper Trade. In printing and publishing the BRITISH WORKER our supreme aim was to assure co-operation between all unions carrying out the policy of the Trades Union Congress General Council.

The BRITISH WORKER appeared under the direction of the General Council of the T.U.C., and with the co-operation of every Union in the Newspaper Trade.

As its sub-title clearly showed, the BRITISH WORKER was a Strike News Bulletin. With this issue it ceases publication. To-morrow the DAILY HERALD will reappear containing all its old features.

The DAILY HERALD will fearlessly champion the cause of British workers and the workers of the world.

It will show that Labour is undefeated and that the workers by hand and brain are as resolute as ever in their efforts to bring about social and economic reconstruction.

Order your copies now and show your loyalty to the cause of human progress by supporting a Labour Newspaper as by your unflinching courage you supported the whole Labour Movement during the past two weeks.

GIVE YOUR ORDERS NOW